

KLove radio is not only an asset to my work but it provides an enjoyable and pleasant alternative to the screaming rock and the county who done me wrong song. Its moral content is one of the few voices we have left and to stifle it would be wrong. There are enough of the other stations, and only a few like KLove. Why must Christian music always give way to the popular.